Stir up your power, and come! The psalmist's plea in Psalm 80:2 has become familiar to us in the Advent prayers. Isaiah wants God to rip the heavens open. Both cry out for an apparently distant, angry God to show up, to save, to restore. When we hear Jesus describing the coming of the Son of Man with stars falling from heaven, it can sound dire and horrible, not like anything we would ever hope for. But when we really look at the suffering of people God loves, we can share the hope that God would tear open the heavens and come.

Prayer of the Day

P: The Lord be with you.

C: And also with you.

P: Let us pray

Lesson: Isaiah 64:1-9

This lament comes from a people who have had their hopes shattered. The visions of a rebuilt Jerusalem and a renewed people of God, spoken of in Isaiah 40–55, have not been realized. Instead, the people experience ruin, conflict, and famine. This lament calls God to account—to be the God who has brought deliverance in the past.

Psalm 80:1-7, 17-19

L: ¹Hear, O Shepherd of Israel, leading Joseph like a flock;
shine forth, you that are enthroned upon the cherubim.

C: ²In the presence of Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up your strength and come to help us.

L: ³Restore us, O God; let your face shine upon us, and we shall be saved.

C: ⁴O LORD God of hosts, how long will your anger fume when your people pray?

L: ⁵You have fed them with the bread of tears; you have given them bowls of tears to drink.

C: ⁶You have made us the derision of our neighbors, and our enemies laugh us to scorn.

L: ⁷Restore us, O God of hosts; let your face shine upon us, and we shall be saved.

C: ¹⁷Let your hand be upon the one at your right hand, the one you have made so strong for yourself.

L: ¹⁸And so will we never turn away from you; give us life, that we may call upon your name.

C: ¹⁹Restore us, O LORD God of hosts; let your face shine upon us, and we shall be saved.
